The EMDR Institute Basic Training is an internationally accredited EMDR training which is conducted over six days to ensure that participants may optimise their exposure to the practice of EMDR with six separate practicum sessions. The six days are broken into two, 3-day trainings named Weekend 1 and Weekend 2. Each three day training is followed by a five hour supervision component. Group supervision dates are usually determined by the participants at the training. The training is an interactive learning experience; participants are required to bring a minor issue to address at the training.

EMDR INSTITUTE ADVANCED TRAININGS

Dr Roger Solomon

	Attachmt/Trauma/ Dissoc	Structural Dissociation	Master Class
New Zealand		21 November 2013	22-25 November 2013
Phuket Thailand	26 November 2014	27 November 2014	28 Nov. – 2 Dec. 2014

The Master Class will teach the “Art of EMDR” with a special focus on EMDR with complex trauma utilising the framework of Structural Dissociation. The training has a heavy emphasis on live demonstrations and personal practice with immediate feedback to fine tune skills.

The Structural Dissociation Training will describe the nature of structural dissociation and its various levels of complexity and how to identify its symptoms. Participants will be informed about a practical and theoretically sound phase-oriented approach to treating the “whole” client or patient while dealing effectively with dissociative parts and with the difficult issues in which dissociation may play a major role, such as self harm, substance abuse, eating problems, and unstable relational patterns.

Attachment/Trauma/Dissociation This workshop will introduce the role of disorganised attachment in complex trauma. Conflicting and persistent activation of the attachment and the defence system is the hallmark of attachment disorganisation. Implications for treatment and the application of EMDR will be discussed.
